PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS without effective transportation, all logistic effort collapses, and without effective logistics, all defense collapses; and

WHEREAS the United States of America has the greatest transportation system ever developed and maintained anywhere in the world, and it is of the greatest importance that it be so recognized and maintained; and

WHEREAS the growth and development of all of the areas of the United States, the expansion of our commerce, trade, and cultural relations among the various sections of our country and with the nations of the world, are directly attributable to and their continuance dependent upon the transportation mobility of our people and the products of our farms and factories, serving adequately and effectively all our people; and

WHEREAS this great transportation system, by land, by sea, and in the air, has been so expansive and comprehensive as to become a permanent commonplace in its acceptability, and the true importance and significance of this great transportation system in the community life and security of all our people, and as a bulwark in support of the Armed Forces in a national emergency in the defense of our country, it is not given the full recognition to which this national development is entitled; and

WHEREAS the Congress, by a joint resolution approved May 16, 1958, has requested The President annually to issue a proclamation designating the third Friday of May of each year as National Defense Transportation Day, and urging the people of the United States, including labor, management, and users and investors, in all communities served by any of the various forms of transportation by land, by sea, and by air, to observe this occasion by appropriate ceremonies which will give full recognition to the importance to each community of our transportation system and the maintenance of its facilities in readiness to serve our needs in time of peace and in national defense;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOE FOSS, GOVERNOR of the State of SOUTH DAKOTA, do hereby proclaim Friday, May 15, 1958, as National Defense Transportation Day, I urge all State, County, and Municipal officials, as well as all citizens of the State, to collaborate in appropriate activities and ceremonies with the various branches of the transportation industry and with the representatives of the armed forces and other government agencies, in such manner as will afford an opportunity for the people of each community to recognize and appreciate full the importance of a great modern transportation system, in their daily lives and in our national defense.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF,
Governor of South Dakota, do hereby set my hand and cause the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota to be placed this 14 day of April 1958.
